1. We don't compromise. Period.
2. Our courses are intense and hands-on. We don't believe in hours of theory and navel-gazing. We like you to get your hands dirty from day one and focus entirely on getting you ready for your next job. You will learn the theory while working on your projects.
3. Our teaching doesn't stop at the end of our courses. Once an Escapee, always an Escapee. We work with you to make your demo reel the best it can be and our doors are always open to our graduates. In fact, many of them keep coming years after they have finished a course, just for a chat and a cup of coffee.
4. Our instructors are hand selected from the best in the industry. This industry experience is combined with a passion for teaching and a love of effects and animation. They will drive you hard, but it will be worth it.
5. We don't believe in classes with dozens or even a hundred students. Our classroom courses are all held in classes of 15 students or fewer, where we can be sure to give everyone personal attention.
6. We are dedicated to helping our students find jobs. We help them develop the skills and learn the tools they need to do real work at a studio.
7. All of our courses are vetted by the best studios in the industry. They tell us what they need in their day-to-day productions and we craft our courses to meet their requirements. That's why we are so successful at finding jobs for our students—we know exactly what the industry needs and requires.
8. Pixar chose Escape Studios to develop their official RenderMan training material.
9. 98% of our students would recommend us.
10. In a recent poll, 97% of our customers say we are either good or very good. Those are the top two categories to mark in the survey. We know we are good. We just want you to know others think so too.
